Dear Apurba Koirala,

On behalf of the entire team at VCPulse.io, I am thrilled to extend a warm welcome as you join us as a Software Developer Intern. We are genuinely excited to have you on board and eager to embark on this journey together.

During your internship, you will have the opportunity to work closely with experienced professionals in the field, gaining valuable insights and hands-on experience that will further enhance your skills and capabilities. We are committed to providing you with a supportive and nurturing environment where you can thrive and grow both personally and professionally.

As you settle into your role, please do not hesitate to reach out to your assigned mentor, Jonathan Atrey or any member of the team if you have any questions or need assistance. We are here to support you every step of the way and ensure that your internship experience with us is rewarding and fulfilling.

Once again, welcome to VCPulse.io, Apurba. We are excited to have you join our team and look forward to the great work we will accomplish together.

Warm regards,

Jakub Slachta (Head of Product)
